Tools recovered

"Tell us what the markings are and we'll be more than happy to return the tools to their rightful owner," Det. Haller said.

Citizen of the Year...Belle Glade Business man George Larry Royal told those attending the annual Chamber Awards Banquet that even though his business has expanded, Belle Glade was his home

Belle Glade will get new holiday decorations

By Brenda Bunting
SUN Editor

The Grinch almost stole Christmas in Belle Glade Monday night, but city commissioners came to the rescue.

City Manager Lomax Harrelle told commissioners the city's Christmas decorations were in "deplorable condition" and a safety hazard. They could not be used another year.

The city is facing a tough budget year and money for extras such as Christmas decorations is not in the budget, said Mayor Bill Bailey.

"I guess we'll just have to do without lighting the streets this year," he told them.

Commissioner Steve Weeks said he would not like to see the streets unadorned during the holiday season and suggested the commission look at ways to finance the purchase of new lights or banners.

He said the city had funds left after the sale of a truck and suggested that money be used.

Assistant to the City Manager Sue Tietz said she had researched the cost of wreaths or banners for the streets. Wreaths for poles on Main Street and Martin Luther King Boulevard to 5th Street would cost $200 per pole and banners $125.

The commission authorized staff to purchase whichever the city could afford with the money available.

City employees also learned this week they will receive a bonus the first week in December. The city froze wages this budget year and Mr. Harrelle said he would like for the employees to at least receive a small bonus.

In other business, the commission:

- approved the purchase and installation of ESXX telephone equipment.

City Finance Director Bill Underwood said it was an opportunity to save on the telephone service by changing from the current line service with AT & T to Southern Bell ESXX.

The city currently spends $24,429.84 for 63 phone lines. Mr. Underwood said the annual expense for 63 ESXX lines would be $17,993.04, or a savings of $6,436.80 per year.

The city would also save $8,000 in equipment lease and maintenance with ESXX.

- Listened to a report from City Building Inspector Gene Simmons concerning an appraisal of the building better known as "The House of Pain" on 416 S.W. Avenue B Place.

Mr. Simmons said the Dangerous Building Appraisal Board conducted an inspection of the building and calculated the cost to repair the building would be 6.15 times more than the building was worth.

Mr. Simmons said he would advise the owner, Sonny Fowler, of their findings. The building was appraised by the County's tax appraiser at $55,093. The board estimates it will cost $339,201 to bring the building up to code.

George Larry Royal named Belle Glade Citizen of Year

Local businessman and Glades native George Larry Royal, Jr. was named this year's Citizen of the Year at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night.

"Following in his father's footsteps, this dedicated businessman quietly takes care of business; always going that extra mile to support Glades youth and community activities," said presenter Dolly Hand.

Mr. Royal was born in Clewiston, but soon called Belle Glade home. He attended Lake Harbor Elementary School, Belle Glade High School, and is a graduate of Stetson University where he met Joanne, his wife of 41 years.

A founding member of the Bank of Belle Glade, Mr. Royal is presently Chairman of the bank's Board of Trustees.

"One would have to look very hard to find a community event or a local charity or a school project that has not been furthered by this outstanding citizen and his family business," said Mrs. Hand.

"Always ready to lend a hand, this mild-mannered and quiet-spoken gentleman never says "no" when his community asks for assistance. Whether a few dollars or a few thousand dollars, he is well-known throughout the entire Glades area for his generous support."

Mr. Royal is an avid tennis player, cyclist and jogger. And, he is a die-hard Florida Gator fan. His father, George Royal opened a general store in the Glades in the early 1920's and expanded the business to include shopping centers, fast food franchises, furniture stores and a fertilizer plant.

The Royals are the parents of four grown children, Susan Wurth, Mike Royal, Jeff Royal, and Chuck Royal. They have six grandchildren.

Pahokee to dump garbage system

Commission: Pahokee can can cans

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

The Pahokee City Commission Tuesday night voted to dispose of its 300-gallon-can trash collection system and replace it with a dumpster based system.

Citing the unsightliness of the cans as well as their propensity to be overturned by aluminum can scavengers, City Manager Ken Schenck asked the commission for permission to seek bids for dumpsters and a new truck to handle them.

Mr. Schenck estimated the cost of a new truck to be in the range of $110,000 - $120,000, and that the dumpsters would cost about $60,000.

But, he said, the city needs a new truck whether or not it chooses to change to the dumpster system. The garbage truck currently in use is nine years old and a maintenance problem, he said. The city's trash truck is about five years old and has become a maintenance problem, too, he said. Pahokee has already received a $6,485 grant from the Solid Waste Authority towards the purchase of a new trash truck, which he estimated will cost about $50,000.

The city has budgeted $35,000 this year as a down payment, and said the city manager, Bank of Pahokee would finance the purchase for five years with payment being approximately $50,000 per year.

The city would save about $3,500 per year by eliminating Saturday pickups, and other savings would come from the reduced number of overall pickups, as each dumpster would hold more trash than one of the existing 300 gallon cans, meaning less frequent collection.

Plus, "These are a lot harder to turn over," said Mr.

Marina money:

Pahokee may wash hands of fuel

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

Pahokee City Commissioners decided Tuesday night not to proceed with plans to install a boat fuel system at the city's marina.

Citing higher than anticipated bid prices - about $70,000 - the commission decided not to install the storage tanks, pumps and hoses needed to add fuel to the marina's infrastructure.

Improvements to the marina's infrastructure needed if fuel were to be installed, however, were selected

The current six-foot dock is not sturdy enough to handle the larger craft the city hoped to attract through the addition of diesel fuel, and will be enlarged to ten feet.

Other structural modifications will be completed so that if the city later decides to install the fuel system, expenses will not be as great.

About $20,000 will be spent on the improvements.

There was discussion concerning whether a major fuel supplier would be interested in operating a marine fuel station at the city's marina, but, according to City Manager Ken Schenck, several had been contacted and replied that there wouldn't be enough business there to turn a profit for such a station.

Commissioner Pete Moore said that if fuel companies felt the idea was not a good one maybe the city shouldn't either.

Commissioner Keith Babb asked if the city couldn't just get a system on a "small scale basis?"

"This is about as small as you can get," said Mr. Schenck.

In the company of friends...Frankie Perry, 10, got a new heart recently. She finds comfort in the stuffed animals given to her by classmates at Gladeview Elementary and looks forward to the day she can go back to school.

Ten-year-old gets a new lease on life

By BRENDA BUNTING

Carol Perry sat for four agonizing hours clutching a Bible in one hand and her daughter Frankie's stuffed teddy bear, Bo Bo, in the other.

She prayed, almost nonstop. "Lord, please let Frankie be all right."

Today, five weeks after getting a new heart, Frankie's more than all right, she's strong and growing stronger everyday.

Frankie doesn't sleep 20 hours a day anymore. She doesn't vomit constantly. Her appetite is back.

She sits in her room and plays her favorite game, Nintendo, does word search puzzles and reads. She looks forward to January when she can go back to school and play with her classmates at Gladeview Elementary. She's shy and usually answers questions in one-syllable words, but says she's glad her stomach doesn't hurt anymore and she says she isn't tired all the time.

Mrs. Perry said they found out on September 12 that their daughter couldn't live unless she got a new heart.

"We were put on the list September 12 and I got a keeper. We got the call on September 19. It was fast," said Mrs. Perry.

The call came at 1 a.m. "My husband answered the phone. I'm glad because I had time to calm myself. We were so scared."

Mrs. Perry doesn't know who Frankie's heart donor was. She received the heart transplant on September 19 at Shands

AfriCamp gets grants totalling $86,086

A successful pilot project that last summer produced a history book for pre-schoolers is being expanded to a year-round research and publishing training program for Glades 10 to 15-year-olds. The program is called AfriCamp and is sponsored by the Zora Neale Hurston Roof Garden Museum of Belle Glade.

AfriCamp, which offered hands-on involvement in oral history research to 27 youngsters during a three-week program in August, has received initial grants totalling $86,086 from the Children's Services Council of Palm Beach County and the State of Florida Department of Cultural Affairs. The program, which will be administered by three full-time and 10 part-time staff, began October 1.

In addition to Hurston Museum Executive Cartheda T. Konchellah, who serves as project director, AfriCamp permanent staff includes Donald Neal, art director, Nilwanda Brown, archivist, and Jessie Moore, secretary.

The expanded program will enable the Hurston Museum to provide training in journalistic style, research and interview techniques, developmental writing and conflict management to 100 pre-teens and teenagers in the Glades.

Recruitment of participants will be underway in November, and the program will provide four hours of training per month, after school and on Saturdays, from January through May. Editing camp will be held for three weeks in June at an out of town conference center. Last summer's camp was held at Lake Byrd Lodge in Avon Park.

Enrollment is open to any interested child who falls within the age requirement, said Mrs. Konchellah. Even though the focus of our research is local African-American history, we realize that this information is valuable to the entire population.

"This will provide a golden opportunity for all residents of Belle Glade to learn about important facts, figures and events in Belle Glade's history that have never been included in books," Konchellah said. "It will also give a valuable career experience to many disadvantaged children, who might never have an opportunity to participate in the actual creation and publishing of literature."

The publication produced by last summer's program, entitled Pioneers: Black Heroes and Their Works, a coloring/activity book for pre-schoolers, will be presented to area kindergartens and day care centers this winter.

For additional information on the AfriCamp program call the Zora-Neale Hurston Roof Garden Museum at 996-2161.

Pahokee's fourth annual Grassy Waters Festival will be November 7 on the dike.

Co-chairs for the event this year are David Sanders and Sandra Jarrell.

Mr. Sanders said the festival, which traditionally lasted two days, will just be on Saturday this year.

"We're trying to get the community more involved and so we decided to just have it one day," Mr. Sanders said.

Festival-goers will find some of the same events that have proved popular over the years, including the Bed Races down Main Street, the Bake-off, and the Gemini Twin contest.

A fishing contest will begin at 8 a.m. on the pier. Children should bring their own pole. Bait will be provided.

The popular "Kount the Korn Kernels" contest will again be sponsored by the Pahokee Volunteer Fire Department.

A 5K run, sponsored by Southern Bell, will begin at 8

Hospital in Gainesville.

"They wouldn't tell us anything about the donor or the family and that was kind of heart-breaking. I do know that a 15-year-old girl got the liver, and others probably benefited from other organs," said Mrs. Perry.

Children's Medical Services made all the arrangements. Carol Perry and her daughter took a private flight out of West Palm Beach because there were no airlines flying that time of night to Gainesville.

Her husband and other family members drove up to Gainesville.

Doctors told her the surgery would probably take eight hours. It took four.

Frankie hasn't had an easy life. Doctors discovered a large tumor in her chest when she was 15-months old. She was diagnosed with T-cell lymphoma and underwent four years of chemotherapy.

Doctors believe the powerful chemicals at such an early age damaged Frankie's heart.

"She's only 10 and her whole life has been filled with doctors, hospitals and pills," said Mrs. Perry.

It hasn't been easy for the family financially, either. They've received some help from Medicaid and from Children's Medical Services, but the outstanding bills are staggering.

Frankie's father, Frank Perry works for Sugar Cane Growers. Mrs. Perry worked for the Palm Beach County Health Department, but had to stop work in May when Frankie got sick.

"Frankie took all my time. Trips to the doctor, stays in the hospital and constantly watching her medication.

"It's really hard financially. We've exhausted all our savings," said Mrs. Perry.

And that wasn't the worst of it. While the Perry's were in Gainesville, someone broke into their mobile home and stole their VCR and all the family's jewelry.

"My son asked me when we got back Mommie, where's the VCR?" "I said "What do you mean where's the VCR? and when I looked, it was gone."

The robber, seeing the family was gone, broke in through a window. Police still have no clues about the theft.

Frankie's classmates at Gladeview sent her flowers, cards and a white stuffed polar bear. She talks to some of them on the telephone, but looks forward to going back to school.

"I miss my friends," she said. "She has a five-year-old brother Franklyn, who goes to kindergarten. Does she fight with him?"

Frankie just smiles. "Now she does, all the time," said Mrs. Perry, laughing.

Frankie's aunt, Alfreda Knight has helped the family set up a fund at First Union Bank. Anyone who would like to make a donation can make their checks out to Frankie Perry and take them or mail them to the bank.

Mrs. Perry said she is grateful every day that Frankie got a second chance at life and says words can not express her gratitude to the family who remembered the living during the dark hour of death.

"How can I thank them? I don't have the words," said Mrs. Perry. "There's nothing I could give them that would match the gift they gave us."

"I think about them all the time."

Stein.

Mr. Wolf is a native of Indiana - who has made Belle Glade his home for the past 44 years.

He earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees at Purdue University. Upon arriving in 1948 at the University of Florida's Everglades Experiment Station, now Everglades Research and Education Center, Mr. Wolf "proceeded to make a name for himself and for Glades agriculture with his many outstanding research projects," said Mr. Stein.

He served the EREC as an Assistant Professor from 1948 to 1956, as Associate Professor from 1956 to 1965, and as Professor from 1966 until his retirement last year.

His major accomplishments include the development of several varieties of blight-resistant celery, the high-sugar-retention Florida Sweet cern, and Florida Staysweet.

His varieties were instrumental in pushing Palm Beach County to the top among counties in the nation in annual production of sweet corn and celery, bringing an estimated $100 million into the local economy each year.

His many awards include recognition from the Florida Foundation Seed Producers, Inc.; the National Sweet Corn Breeders Association; and both houses of the Florida State Legislature in 1987 who presented him with resolutions for his contributions to Florida agriculture.

Other honors include a Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association Research Award, the Florida State Horticultural Society outstanding paper award, the 1981 Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Agri-

Industry Man of the Year Award, and the Belle Glade Lions Club's Man of the Year award.

Mr. Wolf is active locally in the Lions Club, Boy Scouts of America, Community United Methodist Church, and several local charities.

He and his wife, Eleanor have five grown children, Barbara, Glenn, Janet, Nancy, and Jean. He has nine grandchildren.

Police Officer of the Year 1992

Belle Glade Police Agent Angleette Green was named Police Officer of the year.

After two years in the Communications Division, Ms. Green was promoted to the Uniform Patrol Division in 1988 and served as a Patrol Officer until she was promoted to Detective in September 1991.

As a detective, her primary duties were to investigate and follow up on various major felony investigations.

She has also been assigned to the Glades Multi-Agency Narcotics Task Force as a Narcotics Agent working undercover to identify and apprehend drug dealers in the Glades.

"Her work in these various positions has resulted in numerous arrests of drug dealers and other violent felony offenses," said Inspector Lowery.

"Her integrity, investigative skills, and rapport with the community are above reproach. She is indeed an asset to the Belle Glade Police Department and the community she serves,"

he added.

Firefighter of the Year
Devon Hugh Edwards was named Firefighter of the Year. He has been with the department since 1980.

"During this time he has completed courses in the handling of hazardous materials, Strategies of Emergency Management, Emergency Vehicle Operation, Stress Management, Supervisory Practices, and LP Gas Emergencies.

He became a State of Florida Certified Emergency Medical Technician in June of 1986.

Mr. Edwards was promoted to Driver Engineer in January of 1983 and to Lieutenant in July of 1985.

In addition to his regular duties as Shift Commander, he assists in the coordination of all maintenance to fire equipment.

Special presentations

Three special presentations were made during the evening. Dennis McCarthy, president of the Canal Hazard Safety Committee, presented a plaque to State Representative Marian Lewis for her help in getting funding to four-lane U.S. 27 and other projects.

Frank Teets, on behalf of the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau also presented Rep. Lewis with a plaque for her support of agriculture in the Glades.

Glades General Hospital was the recipient of the Community Pride Award for their improvements to their property.

The Glades Day School Gator Glee Club performed for a row for the third year in a row. They sang and danced to patriotic music and songs from the 1950's and 1960's.

South Bay officers receive commendations

South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony gave commendations to 11 South Bay Police Officers for their work in the South Dade area after Hurricane Andrew.

Mayor Anthony said all of the officers donated their own time, without pay, to assist the Homestead Police Department.

"These officers together have donated over 400 hours of police patrol time in the City of Homestead," said Mayor Anthony. "This is responding to a need due to emergency conditions existing in the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew."

The officers performed uniformed police patrol, answered and handled various routine and emergency calls, including those for medical assistance, and recovered stolen property.

They made over 50 arrests, both misdemeanor and felony, and assisted various citizens of the community in getting aid.

Those honored were, Chief R. Humston, Jr., Cpl. G. Flores, Investigator F. Willis, Officers S. Harrelle, L. Holbrook, T. Carey, J. Mendez, R. Rustin, M. Morris and Auxiliary Officer T. Larson and Police Cadet S. Alves.

CVI needs competition
I'd like to speak Out about the CVI cable television industry in Belle Glade.

I think with the money the Belle Glade people are paying for the poor service we're getting, we should advertise for Belle Glade to get another cable television service in town.

This way, CVI would have competition. Maybe by doing this we would get good service. For the money we're putting out, the service has been very poor so far.

Another complaint on CVI
I am calling in reference to the CVI cable service that we don't get here in Belle Glade.

I think we need to get our city commissioners to do their job, what they've been voted in to do, and get this service straightened out for us.

This is the second night here on Saturday night since the Braves have been in the play-offs that the television has been completely gone all night long. CVI only sees fit to pay one girl to answer the telephones all night long. We can't get through to try to report the downed service.

This is pitiful service we are getting out here out of this cable company and they just continue to get away with it.

They increased our rates several times over the last year and the service is getting worse as it goes up.

I appreciate your taking the time to print this in Speak Out.

City needs to fix street lights

As a power utility worker and a concerned citizen of Belle Glade I want to know when the City of Belle Glade is going to repair the broken street lights on South Main Street and Southeast Avenue G.

They belong to the city, not the power company. They have been out a long time. Surely city employees have noticed these.

Many ladies walk in that area and the broken lights pose a safety problem.

Will it take someone getting hurt before the lights are fixed? If any readers are concerned, I suggest they call the city and complain.

Editor's note: City manager Lomax Harrelle said the problem is already being addressed. He said he asked Public Works last week to go around the city and list all the non-functioning street lights. Mr. Harrelle said the lights will be repaired soon.

Keep church and state separate

I got a surprise when I went to church Sunday. The pastor told the congregation who NOT to vote for.

I do not want the government telling me how to get to heaven and I don't want the church telling me to vote for. The Bible says to render to Caesar that which is Caesar's and unto God what is God's - separation of church and state. I went to hear about the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost. I heard about Bush, Clinton and Perot.

How stupid do they think we are?

By Ross Perot

The other day a plumber stopped me and said, "Ross, there's not a nickel's worth of difference between the two political parties." A construction worker told me, "If I hear one more phrase about 'family values' I think I'll throw up." The most frequently repeated statement by good hard-working people since the Democratic and Republican conventions has been "How stupid do they think we are?"

Both political parties act as if they bear no responsibility for the $4 trillion debt that burdens our country. But the world financial markets tell the story, as the dollar dropped to new lows against the German Mark after the Republican convention. A computer engineer summed it up. "We can't be a superpower unless we are first an economic superpower - just look at Russia." Sam Walton, became America's richest man by standing in the aisles, listening to his customers and taking swift action to meet their needs and desires.

Unfortunately, the parties have lost touch with the American people. Neither party has a Sam Walton. They spend so much money listening to the special interests - from the foreign lobbyists to the tobacco industry - that give them the huge amounts of money needed for their campaigns that they can't hear taxpayers' citizens.

An interesting thing happened this year. Five and a half million people, who feel they have no voice in the country they own, joined together in a petition signing process to put me on the ballot.

Even after I announced that we could best solve the country's problems if one or both of the political parties would squarely face the issues and deal with them, the people continued getting petitions signed and have now formed a national organization, United We Stand America.

I am not the centerpiece of this effort. My role as a candidate is incidental. This effort is focused on re-building our country. Only the owners - the people - can do it.

Letters to the editor

Clinton has their votes

Dear Editor:

In response to the issue of the integrity and character of Governor Bill Clinton, my husband and I wish to provide the American people with our personal reflections upon Governor Clinton's background.

First I would explain that my husband and I have spent our lifetime in the field of Arkansas public education. I have a professional degree in guidance and counseling. My husband, Henry, holds a master of education degree in educational administration and is a veteran of World War II, having received a purple heart for wounds crossing the Saar River into Germany. We both retired in 1977 after a forty-five year career working with young people in our state.

Having interacted with tens of thousands of students, one of which was Governor Clinton, we feel well qualified to provide insight into his character.

We would like to relate a touching account of the "real" Bill Clinton, a person who respects people, unconditionally. This anecdote was related to me by one of my students whom I met while shopping for housewares. It was election day and she was imploring me to vote for Bill Clinton.

I came by bus to Hot Springs High School from a small rural area. As I approached the building I was frightened, not knowing where to go to register. I walked slowly, very slowly up the steps. Once inside the building, a nice young man came to greet me with his hand extended to shake my hand. He said, "Welcome to Hot Springs High School -- the best school in Arkansas! My name is Bill Clinton, how may I help you?"

"I need to enroll," I answered timidly. He took me to the office, helped me enroll, and then went with me to show me my classroom. As we walked, he discussed the activities of the school and said, "If you need anything, you let me know."

"All throughout high school I saw Bill in the halls, cafeteria, and at assemblies. He always spoke to me and asked how I was doing. He was a perfect gentleman and the kindest person I have ever known. Had it not been for Bill Clinton, I would not have graduated from Hot Springs High."

I was deeply moved as this young lady described the Bill Clinton we all know. I said to her, "I voted for him."

As Bill's high school counselor and an observer of his personal and professional accomplishments, it is clear to me that he cares about people and has an understanding of the issues relevant to most Americans.

Bill Clinton is a highly intelligent, optimistic, and truthful person who loves God, his family, and his country. He has our trust and we want all Americans to carefully consider his plans to deal with the serious problems our country faces.

An open letter to the residents of Pahoekoe

Dear Editor:

This letter is to the people of Pahoekoe from the Pahoekoe East Beach Economic Development Authority.

Dear Residents:

As you ride through our town I am sure you notice the closed stores and lack of business activity.

Some months ago we formed the Pahoekoe East Beach Economic Development Authority to combat these problems for Pahoekoe.

Our first priority is a request we submitted to the State for 1,000 acres of state owned land to develop into housing, a golf course, and hopefully a boat lock. This would create jobs, improve the City's tax income, and encourage business activity all over Western Palm Beach County.

Specifically, we've asked for a five year option so that we can then look for investors with the ability and financial strength to accomplish this.

We are volunteers who are asserting Pahoekoe's need and right to be involved in the disposition of land contiguous to our city. We have donated our time and our own expense money to attempt this on behalf of the City and the Chamber of Commerce for two reasons.

First, we recognize that to survive Pahoekoe must have a new source of revenue and economic activity. Secondly, we are opposing the state's disregard for the future land use segment of a comprehensive plan mandated and approved by the state in 1989. Because the state required it, the City Commission spent $100,000 to formulate such a plan.

Those of us who were on the commission at the time feel it is not right for the State to ignore what we paid the city's money to outline.

As a group we stand to gain only what all of Pahoekoe stands to gain - a future.

It's a difficult battle and we have no guarantee of success. The only thing you can be sure of is that we will give it our best.

If you'd like to write letters in support of Pahoekoe's bid, address yourself to the following members of the State Cabinet:

Governor Lawton Chiles, Secretary Jim Smith, Attorney General Bob Butterworth, State Comptroller Gerald Lewis, Treasurer Tom Gallagher, Commissioner Bob Crawford, Commissioner Betty Castor, Ms. Virginia Weatherall, Dept. of Natural Resources.

All may be contacted as follows: The Capitol, Tallahassee, FL 32399.

Add this, as well, to your own prayer list.

For Pahoekoe

...and to the Republic for which it once stood...

Dear Editor:

At 68 years of age I remember the United States of America as it once stood. The unquestioned World leader in all things.

Now, with two weeks to go to Election '92 I look at the leadership choices offered to us and wonder if the America I remember can "rise from the ashes."

In Gainesville not too long ago Clinton said he was not promising to restore America to what it once was. Hell, he is too young (as is Gore) to know the greatness that once was America's. (Gore might be able to get an answer from his father).

Then the Republicans revel in Bush's greatness as a "War Hero." He had nothing to do with his getting shot down and then his raw animal instinct for survival took over. Hero hell, the real American heroes are those who risked their lives to save their buddies.

What do I know about it? Well I was there on "D-day" at Normandy and "did my duty" but that does not a hero make.

Do I love my country? You're damn right I do! Would I fight again for my country? The answer is a resounding "yes!" But would I oppose a politically motivated "Viet Nam" type conflict? You can bet on it!

Clinton had very little to oppose Viet Nam. Had more people done so there would be fewer of our dead and missing left over there.

Enough of that. As we approach Election '92, I believe almost all Americans know "The Problems" which face our country and a lot of them know the painful decisions which must be made and which are the solutions to these problems.

If I thought a person could and would pursue the course of action necessary to restore America to its greatness I would not at all be concerned as to whether he avoided the draft, whether he had "inhaled", whether he had slept with other women or how many he had slept with. Neither his race, creed, color, religion, morality, sexual preference - nothing - would matter save the fact that he could save my country. If you were drowning would you interrogate your would be savior as to these matters? No, you would grab hold and pray to be saved.

So...do I vote? It is the only present way to make a difference and if we cannot do it by ballot the time will come when the American people will rise in the "Second American Revolution", for the present government is no better to the Americans than the government of King George.

So, having three choices...Bush, Clinton and Perot (listed alphabetically), I must decide on one. However, unlike some I see and hear on television, I am not opposed to casting my vote for the person I feel is the best one to lead America notwithstanding he might not prevail, given consideration to the intellect of the voting public. My philosophy has always been to pursue the course of action I believe to be right, not the course touted as popular. Particularly is that true when the "touting" comes from the media which has little regard for the truth.

So, Bush cannot do it! I'm scared to death of Clinton and would predict that while his program might have some cosmetic effect, you will find in four years things are far worse than now. As between those two I would be forced to choose Bush for he will not make things too much worse.

But how about Ross Perot? He has proven his abilities in many ways and if the American people will give him a chance and a little help he can turn things around.

So I'm giving my vote to Perot whom I consider to be, perhaps, the last opportunity to turn America around short of the Second American Revolution.

Safety Tips for a Happy Halloween

Mummies and daddies, make sure your little boys and ghouls obey the following safety rules for safe trick-or-treating.

All Local Police Departments are recommending that October 31 be designated as the night for Halloween celebrations this year. Children may "Trick or Treat" from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The following are some suggestions to children and parents for a safe Halloween.

Costumes:

1. Keep costumes simple. Long and fancy ones could cause children to trip. Costumes should also be fireproof.

2. Costumes should be made of white or light-colored material, to be easily seen at night. ReflectORIZED patches or strips can also be added to the costume.

3. Regular street shoes should be worn as opposed to fancy "clown" or "pirate" shoes, etc.

4. Props, such as guns or swords, should be made of styrofoam or cardboard.

5. If Jack-o'-lanterns are carried a flashlight should be inside instead of a candle.

6. At least one person in each group should carry a flashlight.

Masks:

1. Instead of wearing masks, paint faces with make-up.

2. Apply a thin coat of cold cream before applying the make-up (make-up will come off easier).

Treats:

1. NEVER eat anything until after your are home and the treats have been examined.

2. Cut and wash fruit before eating.

3. Throw away anything unwrapped.

4. Check the wrappers of commercial treats for signs of tampering.

5. Notify the police if harmful items are found.

Parties:

1. Older children should attend parties instead of going trick-or-treating.

2. Younger children may enjoy attending a party organized by concerned parents in the area instead of going trick-or-treating.

Trick-or-treat:

1. A responsible adult, or teen, should accompany each group.

2. Try to limit the group size to four or five.

3. Trick-or-treating should be for small children only...if the child is too old to be accompanied, he is too old to go trick-or-treating.

4. Walk! Do not run while going trick-or-treating.

5. Stay in your own neighborhood and only go to houses which have porch lights turned on.

6. Parents should know exactly what route their children are taking.

7. Never enter a stranger's house - even if invited.

8. Carry trick-or-treating bags that have handles to keep your arms free.

Parents:

1. To avoid encouraging children to enter a stranger's house, never invite trick-or-treaters into your home.

2. Give wrapped homemade treats only to children you know and wrapped commercial treats to others.

3. Be certain that your children are accompanied by an adult or a responsible teenager.

4. Know which friends your children will be with.

5. Do not leave your home unattended on Halloween Night.

6. Leave your porch light on so children will know it is okay to visit your home.

7. Keep your pets inside (house, garage or shed) on Halloween Night.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY HALLOWEEN!

How Halloween Traditions Came To Be

Many Halloween traditions such as ghosts, goblins and trick-or-treating came from the pre-Christian Celts, who populated Great Britain and northern Europe.

According to University of South Florida English professor and occult expert William Heim, the Celts held the pagan festival Samhain in the fall of each year. It was then that they believed the dead were allowed to visit their relatives during the night. To accommodate these spirits, the Celts performed certain rituals that have survived the ages and are now Halloween traditions in America.

The wearing of a mask is believed to have originated when ancient peoples wore them to imitate the spirits walking the earth and also to frighten them away, Heim says.

The tradition of trick-or-treating came from an old practice of leaving food outside the doors for the wandering spirits, Heim says. Children, who were given the job of collecting wood for the fires built to comfort the spirits, often took the food.

"That's why we now give people food in hopes that they won't play tricks on us," Heim says.

"For the ancient people, it was a very scary time of year," he says. "The Celts noticed that the days were becoming shorter and the nights longer -- they believed the sun was dying -- so they built large bonfires in order to give energy to strengthen the sun."

In the seventh century, Roman Catholics made Halloween a Christian holiday in an effort to distract pagan worship that was prevalent throughout Europe, Heim says. The word Halloween means the eve of All-Saints Day, which is still celebrated by Catholics on Nov. 1.

The Jack-o'-lantern stems from an Irish tale. "Jack" was a man so cantankerous and wicked he couldn't get into heaven and the devil didn't want him in hell. The devil chased him away by throwing a glowing coal, which Jack picked up and put inside a hollowed-out turnip he had been eating.

He used the lighted turnip to see as he wandered the earth until the end of time.

When the legend crossed the Atlantic, the pumpkin-indigenous to North America -- replaced the native Irish crop.

Raiders deny credit to Chargers

In what can only be described as a great game, Glades Central's Raiders defeated Suncoast 26 - 27, after stopping the Chargers final PAT effort on the two-yard line with two and a half minutes left in the game.

Suncoast running back Andre Anderson was stopped by a wall of Raiders at the two after having just scored on a 15-yard run.

Anderson had 137 yards in 20 carries Thursday night, and scored two TDs.

Suncoast opened the scoring with a 14-yard Anderson run followed by a bad kick.

The Raiders came right back with a 48-yard run by QB Steve Smith. Smith's TD came on a run-option boot play. Francilme

Grand-Pierre's PAT kick was good.

Glades Central scored again in the second quarter when Nakia Jenkins took a Reidel Anthony pass 30 yards for the touchdown. The PAT kick was blocked.

Suncoast scored twice in the second quarter, first on a 4-yard run by Romyne Holman, followed by a Michael Russell PAT run.

The Chargers scored again when James Simpson caught a pass from Russell and took it 81 yards for the touchdown. The PAT kick was good, and the Chargers led 21 - 13 at the half.

Early in the third quarter, Raider running back Fred Taylor made a fantastic 76-yard run for six points, but the PAT effort failed, leaving the Raiders two points behind.

A bad snap tied the game: Suncoast punter Brant Chipley watched the ball sail over his head and was unable to recover it, so he kicked it out of the end zone, causing a safety and costing the Chargers two points.

Then, in the fourth quarter, Jenkins caught a 50-yard TD pass from Taylor on an option play that the Raiders hadn't tried yet this year.

With 5:39 remaining in the fourth quarter, the Raiders were at second-and-18. Taylor caught the pitchout, ran to his right, stopped, and threw a picture-perfect pass to Jenkins, who was running down the sideline. Raider Head Coach Rick Casco said Taylor's pass was a "line-drive-strike."

The game's final score came when Suncoast's Anderson made his 15-yard run.

Suncoast had another chance to score when Charger back Cedric Saffold recovered a Fred Taylor fumble with less than a minute left, but the Raider defense held fast, and the Chargers ran out of downs on their 39.

The Raiders then took over and ran out the clock.

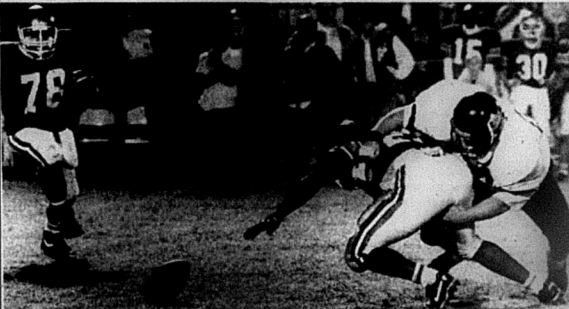

The Raiders had 169 yards in 19 tries on the ground and 107 yards in the air. The Chargers rushed 42 times for 267 yards, and had 104 yards in the air.

Big pile-up in Frostproof...Of course you know these girls are cheerleaders. They performed lots of fancy routines Friday night at Frostproof, but it didn't seem to help; the Gators were defeated, 35 - 6. Here are the names of the girls in the picture: Amy Prescott, Erin Threlkeld, Valerie York, Carmen Ruiz, Jessica Crawford, Stephanie Lockhart, Ashley Challandin, and Amie Carter. (Three of the girls are pretty well hidden behind the others, but they're in there. Honest.)

Gators freeze up at Frostproof

Wait here a minute...while we find a Gator to recover this loose ball. Gator Ralph Towell hangs on to a Bulldog Friday night, while the ball rolls around loose. The Gators recovered this one, which resulted from a bad snap.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

The Gators lost Friday night, but not for lack of trying. They managed 184 yards on the ground, in 45 tries, and were only able to pick up 56 in the air. Danny Scott had 9 carries for 69 yards, Miles Griffin rushed 12 times for 32 yards, Patrick Whitehead had 28 yards on 8 carries, and QB Graham Chancey carried twice for negative eight yards.

Almost intercepted...but caught a flag instead. Making a fine effort here is Gator John McLeod, while free safety Jeremy Lovell slides along the ground. McLeod, who has a Bulldog completely wrapped around him, drew a flag for pass interference. I must have missed something.

Crusade blinded by Flash

Gus Peavy stepped across the line Friday night, but his touchdown was too little, too late, for the Crusaders.

The Hilliard Flash, sparked by quarterback Shawn Sison's 174 yards on five carries, dominated the game, beating the Crusaders 54 - 6.

Crusader head coach Scott Wilson said the Flash was just that: "They may not be the third best team in the state, but they're sure the third fastest!"

The Crusade held the Flash to "only" 433 yards - 160 yards less than their 593 yard average going into the game.

Wilson said Hilliard's coaches told him the Crusaders were the best team they'd played yet.

Willie Bueno

Willie Bueno, a 1987 graduate of Glades Day School and now a starting outside line-backer for the Grand Valley State University Lakers in Allendale, Michigan, has helped the team to a 5-1 record, according to head coach Brian Kelly.

Bueno has made 20 first-hits and is credited with 13 assists. The Lakers are ranked 12th in NCAA Division II.

Lady Raiders win, lose

Glades Central's Lady Raiders volleyball team beat William T. Dwyer Wednesday, October 21, 15-9; 15-8.

In the game, Anjeanette Gilbert was outstanding, with 11 defensive and offensive spikes.

High scoring server was Tamica Smith; second high scoring server was Dahlia Forde.

On October 26, the girls played Cardinal Newman and lost, 15-4; 15-4.

Assistant Vball coach Glenn Hoard said Gilbert was again the outstanding player for the Lady Raiders.

GCCHS 9th team finishes undefeated

Glades Central's 9th grade football team has finished its second consecutive undefeated season, according to JV/9th coach Thomas Dawkins. The team beat Wellington's Wolverines last week 14-8 in a hard-fought game that, said Dawkins, "went back and forth, back and forth."

The Raiders were trailing 7-

8 going into the fourth quarter and scored with two minutes remaining after the GC defense held inside their own 15-yard line on the Wolverine's fourth-and-two.

"Our boys were better conditioned - they came through when it counted in the fourth quarter," said Dawkins.

Not an optical illusion...I'd run too if that guy were chasing me. Here, JV Crusader Ronnie Fripp attempts to elude the pursuit of one of St. Andrew's finest last Wednesday. Fripp didn't get away many times. The Crusaders were defeated.

GCCHS JV Raiders blunt Fork attack

The JV Raiders have done it again, says JV/9th coach Thomas Dawkins: a big win.

The JV boys blasted South Fork 36-0.

The score was 7-0 at halftime, says Dawkins. "It was a close ballgame at the half. Our defense was playing real well, but the offense was sputtering - we couldn't get anything going."

"We told them we'd take them up to the Varsity game (with Suncoast) if they'd maintain the shutout and make three more touchdowns.

"It was like throwing a switch: the very next play James Jackson ran a 94-yard touchdown. The line blew a hole like a stick of dynamite and he just accelerated. He would not be denied."

"I wish we had a Varsity game after every JV game."

Nate Freeman scored on a two-point conversion on an out-pass. Another outstanding job was done by Deminke Hall, said Dawkins. Hall played Guard till the fourth quarter when he went into the backfield.

"He did a fantastic job: he just chewed up the yardage. He drove to the six-inch line in two or three plays at 20 yards a pop," said Dawkins.

The JV team did get to see their big brothers play Suncoast.

Suncoast let the JV boys in free and marked off a special place for them to sit, said coach Dawkins, "and we really appreciate that," he said.

The campus is brimming with excitement this week as Glades Day School celebrates homecoming Gator style.

Country & Western Day kicked off the Spirit Day as faculty and students dressed in their favorite western wear. Time rolled back on Tuesday as everyone wore 1950's clothing, then on Wednesday were their favorite sports team's gear.

The Student Council is once again sponsoring the Gator Growl Thursday evening, October 29.

The night-time pep rally will be held after the JV football game against LaBelle (approximately 9 p.m.) in the school gym.

The homecoming parade will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Glades floats, cars, trucks, and the Gator Band marching down Main Street.

The week's highlight will be the crowning of the 1992 queen during halftime ceremonies of the varsity football game against Fort Lauderdale Westminster Academy. A Halloween homecoming dance will be held after the game.

The Gator Band is sponsoring a chili dinner from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m. Friday for those hungry fans who want to come early for the game. Most of the $5 tickets for chili, salad, dessert, and tea have been sold in advance, but band parent Becky White assured us there will be a limited supply of dinners for those who want to pay at the door.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Gator Glee Club, the featured performers at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce's banquet for the third consecutive year.

Led by director Janis Flecha, the group sang and danced to selections from their spring concert "Made in the USA." As always, they put on a great show!

Students in grades 9, 10, and 12 will get a first hand look at the new Kravis Center in West Palm Beach Tuesday, November 3, when they will watch the Chamber Repertory Theatre perform several of America's best loved short stories.
